Part II Course Details

Abstract

Music for film is an introductory course with an emphasis on lecture-based learning, critical analysis, and individual work on assignments. There are minimal opportunities for the Tutor to train you in any particular software or hardware. Rather, the focus is on developing your own sensibilities and knowledge in the subject that may then inform and inspire your creative work. This course will equip you to discuss various aspects of music in film and give you a deeper appreciation of the art form. On completion of this course you will be able to:

- summarise theories for the perception of music (and other sound elements) in film;
- summarise the historical development of film music from technical and aesthetic perspectives;
- critically discuss the music and other sound elements and their relationship with visual components in films of different genre and character;
- analyse the music (and other sound elements) in two paired movie sequences (given or self-chosen);
- create or curate the music (and other sound elements) to a given movie sequence.

Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

CILOs		Weighting (if app.)	DEC-A1	DEC-A2	DEC-A3
1	Compare various film genres and cinematic music (and other sound elements) from the social and historical context		x
2	Discuss in a broader sense of global cinema practice, the role, function and use of music (and other sound elements) in films from the cultural perspective.		x	x
3	Critique the associative power of film music (and other sound elements) on the human experience.		x	x
4	Apply the knowledge gained from CILOs 1-3 to function as a music editor for film and wider media formats.			x	x

A1: Attitude

Develop an attitude of discovery/innovation/creativity, as demonstrated by students possessing a strong sense of curiosity, asking questions actively, challenging assumptions or engaging in inquiry together with teachers.

A2: Ability

Develop the ability/skill needed to discover/innovate/create, as demonstrated by students possessing critical thinking skills to assess ideas, acquiring research skills, synthesizing knowledge across disciplines or applying academic knowledge to real-life problems.

A3: Accomplishments

Demonstrate accomplishment of discovery/innovation/creativity through producing /constructing creative works/new artefacts, effective solutions to real-life problems or new processes.

Learning and Teaching Activities (LTAs)

	LTAs	Brief Description	CILO No.	Hours/week (if applicable)
1	Lecture	Present various film excerpts from within specific genres and scene types that span from the 1920s until the present.	1, 2	2 hrs
2	Tutorials	Discuss the use of music within various film excerpts and open the class for discussion.	2, 3	1 hr
3	Tutorials	Demonstrate the impact of music on the narrative and on the audience.	2, 3	Will be part of both lecture and tutorial sessions.
4	Lecture/Tutorials	Using freeware software, students will learn the basics of video and audio editing to support their Design Assignment.	1, 2, 3, 4	Demonstrations will be given during lectures, combined with student centred learning exercises to develop the audio editing skills of each student.

Assessment Tasks / Activities (ATs)

	ATs	CILO No.	Weighting (%)	Remarks (e.g. Parameter for GenAI use)
1	Quizzes	1, 2, 3	20	None
2	Homework tasks, presentations, and other contributions.	1, 2, 3	20	None
3	Analysis Assignment: Students will complete a written analysis (~800 words) of the music (and other sound elements) in two given movie sequences (~5 minutes each). The given sequences are paired, e.g. original and remake of the same story (ex. King Kong 1933 and 2005). Each student is required to do a class presentation of either the Design or the Analysis Assignment.	1, 2, 4	30	None

4	Design Assignment: Students will design music (create or curate) for a given sequence (~5 minutes). The aim is to provide them an experience of being a music editor for film. Students will be provided with a short video containing dialogue and live action sound. Using provided music and soundscape files, students will be required to select and place music against moving image using freeware software. A support document in the form of a creative journal will be required to reveal the student's intention and creative process. Each student is required to do a class presentation of either the Design or the Analysis Assignment.	1, 2, 3, 4	30	None

Assessment Rubrics (AR)Assessment Task

1. Quizzes
2. Homework tasks, presentations, and other contributions
3. Analysis Assignment
4. Design Assignment

Criterion

Multiple questions.

Individuals will be assessed on how they critique a movie's music (and other sonic elements) – in terms of its role, function and application in relation to the visual elements.

Students will be assessed on their demonstrated analysis and understanding of the role and effect of music (and other sonic elements) in relation to visual elements for the given movie scene or scenes.

Students will be assessed on the type and placement of music for a given (5-minute) movie clip. Students are also encouraged to create their own music, but this is not a requirement.

Additionally, students will be assessed a supportive creative report, which should outline the intentional use of music/soundscape design.

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

Strong evidence of understanding of the concepts introduced in class as reflected by worksheets passed to students during tutorials; superior writings revealing original thinking; excellent presentation that requires originality; remarkable improvement through the semester

Good (B+, B, B-)

Evidence of understanding of the concepts introduced in class as reflected by worksheets passed to students during tutorials; good writing showing clarity and depth; good presentation that requires originality and good team work; satisfying improvement through the semester

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Partial evidence of understanding of the concepts introduced in class as reflected by worksheets passed to students during tutorials; writing that lack any depth; satisfactory presentation that requires originality; partial improvement through the semester

Marginal (D)

Little evidence of understanding of the concepts introduced in class as reflected by worksheets passed to students during tutorials; insufficient writing ability as revealed through topic discussions; disorganized presentation; little improvement through the semester

Failure (F)

No evidence of understanding of the concepts introduced in class as reflected by worksheets passed to students during tutorials; writings lack basic clarity; presentation that reveals no originality; no improvement through the semester
