LW3606A: CRIMINAL LAW I

Effective Term

Semester A 2024/25

Part I Course Overview

Course Title Criminal Law I

Subject Code

LW - Law Course Number 3606A

Academic Unit School of Law (FL)

College/School School of Law (FL)

Course Duration

One Semester

Credit Units

3

Level B1, B2, B3, B4 - Bachelor's Degree

Medium of Instruction

English

Medium of Assessment English

Prerequisites

Nil

Precursors

Nil

Equivalent Courses

LW3106 Criminal Law (LLB) (upon successful completion of LW3606A and LW3606B) LW3106A Criminal Law (AMLLB) (upon successful completion of LW3606A and LW3606B) LW3606 Criminal Law (upon successful completion of LW3606A and LW3606B) LW5606A Criminal Law I

Exclusive Courses

Nil

Part II Course Details

Abstract

This course aims to provide students with an insight into the factors affecting criminalisation of behaviour, criminal liability, capacity to commit crime and participation in crime. Specific crimes covered by the course include homicide (murder and manslaughter), non-fatal offences against the person, dangerous drugs offences and road traffic offences.

The course aims to train students in the practical application of the principles of criminal liability and to encourage the development of the necessary analytical, reasoning and strategic skills needed to argue real-life criminal cases as either prosecutors or defence lawyers. Furthermore, after completing the course, students will appreciate the way that the criminal law is enforced in Hong Kong, how offenders are punished, and the strengths and weaknesses of the criminal law as it operates in contemporary society.

|   | CILOs                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Weighting (if app.) | DEC-A1 | DEC-A2 | DEC-A3 |
|---|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|--------|--------|--------|
| 1 | Describe and Explain:- the concept of criminal liability and thefactors that affect and determine criminalliability;- factors affecting liability for substantivecriminal offences;- the differences between criminal law, criminalprocedure and the law of evidence;- the features of criminal law enforcement andpunishment in Hong Kong.                                                                                             | 15                  |        |        |        |
| 2 | <ul> <li>Apply the substantive criminal law to a range of factual situations in order to:</li> <li>- ascertain the criminal liability of individuals and corporations and any potential defences to liability;</li> <li>- offer possible solutions to problems that arise in relation to the operation of those offences;</li> <li>- formulate and confidently communicate, both orally and in writing and in plain legal English, advice on criminal liability.</li> </ul> | 30                  | X      | X      |        |
| 3 | Employ the criminal law to:- challenge in mock settings determinations ofliability for substantive criminal offences anddefences to that liability.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 15                  | x      | x      |        |
| 4 | Critically evaluate and debate:- the criminalisation of particular behaviour;- the way the criminal law is enforced;- the sanctions for contravening the criminallaw;- the operation and impact of substantivecriminal law offences;- the limitations of those offences;- the place of those offences in the overallcontext of Hong Kong's criminal law;- areas of possible reform and improvement.                                 | 40                  | X      | X      | X      |

Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

A1: Attitude

Develop an attitude of discovery/innovation/creativity, as demonstrated by students possessing a strong sense of curiosity, asking questions actively, challenging assumptions or engaging in inquiry together with teachers.

A2: Ability

Develop the ability/skill needed to discover/innovate/create, as demonstrated by students possessing critical thinking skills to assess ideas, acquiring research skills, synthesizing knowledge across disciplines or applying academic knowledge to real-life problems.

A3: Accomplishments

Demonstrate accomplishment of discovery/innovation/creativity through producing /constructing creative works/new artefacts, effective solutions to real-life problems or new processes.

|   | LTAs                                   | Brief Description                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | CILO No.   | Hours/week (ifapplicable) |
|---|----------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 | Lectures                               | Students will beintroduced to substantivecriminal offences, theirconstituent parts and tokey concepts and issues.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 1, 2, 3, 4 | 2                             |
| 2 | Tutorials                              | Tutorials providean opportunity forstudent led activity anddiscussions of issues. Intutorials, students willanlayse and evaluateissues and concerns insubstantive criminallaw offences and makeindividual presentationsas a forum where thoseissues and concerns canbe identified, discussedand evaluated. By readingOrdinances, cases andother material and byresearching materialstudents will describe,discuss and explain thesubstantive content of thecriminal justice system. | 1, 2, 3, 4 | 1                             |
| 3 | Reading and Preparationfor Classes | Students will developtheir knowledge inthe subject by doingsuggested readingand research onthe conceptual andtheoretical sides of thesubject. It is also used forstudents to catch up onearlier missed reading.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 1, 2, 3, 4 | Approx 2-3                    |

Assessment Tasks / Activities (ATs)

|   | ATs                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | CILO No.   | Weighting (%) | Remarks (e.g. Parameterfor GenAI use) |
|---|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|---------------|-------------------------------------------|
| 1 | Continuous Assessment:Tutorial activities andoverall participationEach student will beassessed on his/hercomments, questionsand answers given duringtutorials, in terms of eachstudent's display of his/her ability to discuss andexplain the material forthe particular tutorialas well as the ability toquestion and challengeoral presentationsby other members oftheir group. There aretwo components oftutorial activities: 1) aproblem-solving questionpresentation (20%); 2)general participation(10%).                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 1, 2, 3, 4 | 30            |                                           |
| 2 | Examination:Students' ability todescribe, explain andcontrast the purpose andoperation of substantivecriminal offences, theirconstituent parts andcomponents and theprinciples, objectives andpurposes underpinningthose substantive offenceswill be tested as will theability to apply thoseprinciples to givensituations and to resolveissues and problemsrelating to the operationof the criminal law.The examination alsocontains a compulsoryessay dealing with policyquestions with a criticalfocus (for JD studentsonly). As with the writtenassignment(s) studentswill be expected to show agood standard of writtenEnglish and to expressthemselves clearly,accurately and concisely. | 1, 2, 3, 4 |               |                                           |

Continuous Assessment (%)

30

```
Examination (%)
```

70

```
Examination Duration (Hours)
```

2

Additional Information for ATs

The use of Generative AI tools for any course assessment is strictly prohibited.

Grading of Student Achievement: Standard (A+, A, A-…F).

Further details of the assessment scheme will be provided during the first tutorial.

Students will need to pay careful attention to their time management skills, and to the university's Academic Honesty policy: http://www.cityu.edu.hk/provost/academic_honesty/rules_on_academic_honesty.htm

To pass each course, students need a total score of at least 40% and a minimum of 30% in both the continuous assessment (CA) component and final exam component.

To ensure fair and comprehensive assessment of students' course performance, the pass mark requirement for the CA component will be waived for courses with a CA component equal to or less than 30%. This means students only need to achieve the pass marks for the final exam component AND the overall mark to pass the course.

Continuous assessment for this purpose means those ways in which students are assessed otherwise than by the end of semester examination.

Assessment Rubrics (AR)

Assessment Task

1. Participation in tutorial sessions (problem-solving presentation 20%, general participation 10%)

Criterion

- Identify and explain relevant legislation, cases, policy documents, and scholarly literature

- Critically and independently analyse relevant laws, judicial decisions, policy documents, and academic writing in the field of criminal law

- Make informed contributions orally to in-class discussions and exercises

- Articulate applications and critical analyses of criminal law and criminal cases orally and in writing (in the form of a written handout detailing key arguments and findings)

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

Strong evidence of original thinking; good organization, capacity to analyse and synthesize; superior grasp of subject matter; evidence of extensive knowledge base.

Good (B+, B, B-)

Evidence of grasp of subject, some evidence of critical capacity and analytic ability; reasonable understanding of issues; evidence of familiarity with literature.

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Student who is profiting from the university experience; understanding of the subject; ability to develop solutions to simple problems in the material.

Marginal (D)

Sufficient familiarity with the subject matter to enable the student to progress without repeating the course.

Failure (F)

Little evidence of familiarity with the subject matter; weakness in critical and analytic skills; limited, or irrelevant use of literature.

Assessment Task

2. Examination

Criterion

- Application of law in factual scenarios

- Theoretical and critical thinking in essay questions (for JD students)

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

Demonstrates a strong interest in and critical engagement with all course material, significant understanding of the criminal law's policy underpinnings, an exceptional ability to identify legal issues and accurately apply the law to determine criminal liability, clearly and persuasively communicated written or oral responses, and a clear ability to listen to, empathise and engage with fellow students' responses.

Good (B+, B, B-)

Demonstrates some critical engagement with course material, a more limited understanding of the criminal law's policy underpinnings, a reasonable ability to identify legal issues and apply the law to determine criminal liability, somewhat clear and persuasive communication by written or oral responses, and some ability to listen to and engage with fellow students' responses.

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Demonstrates limited critical engagement with course material, little understanding of the criminal law's policy underpinnings, a basic ability to spot legal issues and apply the law to determine criminal liability, unclear written or oral responses that do not entirely persuade, and only an occasional ability to listen to and engage with fellow students' responses.

Marginal (D)

Despite otherwise participating in the teaching and learning activities, the student demonstrates no critical engagement with course material, no understanding of the criminal law's policy underpinnings, infrequent ability to apply the law to selected legal issues, provides written or oral responses devoid of persuasion, and little interest in engaging with fellow students' responses.

Failure (F)

Almost no participation in teaching and learning activities. The student cannot demonstrate that he or she has read or understands the course material, or that he or she understands the criminal law's policy underpinnings. The student does not apply the criminal law correctly to legal issues, does not contribute written or oral responses when prompted, and demonstrates no engagement with the views of fellow students on the course material.

Part III Other Information

Keyword Syllabus

The following topics are studied in detail:

- · Actus Reus and causation
- · Mens Rea, intention and recklessness
- $\cdot$   $\,$  Coincidence of actus reus and mens rea and transferred malice
- $\cdot\;$  Strict and absolute liability, vicarious and corporate liability
- · Participation, joint enterprise, principal and secondary parties
- · Murder

- · Manslaughter
- $\cdot\,\,$  As saults, woundings and other non – fatal offences against the person.

Reading List

Compulsory Readings

|   | Title                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|---|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 | Michael Jackson (2003), Criminal Law in Hong Kong, Hong Kong University Press (ISBN 9622095585 ) (Paperback).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 2 | Details of other texts and other reference material will be circulated during the course. As Hong Kong's Criminal Law is based upon that of England and Wales, English texts on criminal law may be used to supplement and complement Hong Kong texts. Students may find the latest editions of Ormerod and Laird 'Smith and Hogan's Text, Cases, and Materials on Criminal Law' useful though there are other texts. |

Additional Readings

|   | Title                                                             |
|---|-------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1 | Simon So, Criminal Law in Hong Kong, LexisNexis (2020)            |
| 2 | Online Resources                                                  |
| 3 | The Hong Kong Judiciary: www.judiciary.gov.hk                     |
| 4 | Hong Kong Legal Information Institute: www.hklii.org              |
| 5 | Department of Justice: www.doj.gov.hk                             |
| 6 | The Hong Kong Police: www.police.gov.hk                           |
| 7 | The Crown Prosecution Service (England and Wales): www.cps.gov.uk |
| 8 | British and Irish legal Information Institute: www.bailii.org     |
| 9 | Judicial Studies Board (England and Wales): www.jsboard.co.uk     |